Lunch at Restaurant Le Prieuré at NOON

Guided Visit of Art Nouveau Exhibition 14h30

Musée d'Art Pully Wednesday, April 20

Before we go on a private guided tour at the Musée de Pully, it would be nice if everyone gets together for lunch at the restaurant Le Prieuré located just a 2 minutes walk from the exhibit.

Art Nouveau, also known as Jugendstil, was a reaction against the academic art, eclecticism and historicism of 19th century architecture and decoration. It was most popular between 1890 and 1910 during the Belle Époque period.

One major objective of Art Nouveau was to break down the traditional distinction between fine arts (especially painting and sculpture) and applied arts. It was most widely used in interior design, graphic arts, furniture, glass art, textiles, ceramics, jewelry and metal work.

It was often inspired by natural forms such as the sinuous curves of plants and flowers. Other characteristics of Art Nouveau is a sense of dynamism and movement, often given by asymmetry or whiplash lines, and the use of modern materials, particularly iron, glass, ceramics and later concrete (Wikipedia).
